Maturalization For a long period nations very carefally excluded resident aliens from citibip, or very rarely granted to aliene be privleges of nationality] Nations were always jealous of the intention of allows who settled among them, always carful that they would plot against the mmonwealth in favor of their native ry. In time of war, in nearly every age, nations have placed, and very properly so, greater reliance on their own native subjects than in their allies no matter how friendly. We read in Roman history of a Roman General in Greace, who on a certain occasion ordered that none but Romans be put in ordered that none but Romans be put in positions of danger. When the treason of Arnold was discovered, Washington's order was "Put none but Americans on guard to night." Nations, however, have been gradually relixing their riged relicant anticomplication in bidding for population have invited allows to settle in their constant and become attigence entitled to ties have invited aliens to settle in their country and become citizens entitled to bearly every privinge. The United States is naturalizing aliens only exclude them from one single office—that is, the office of President. Only a native is elegible to hold that post. But whilst nations are liberalizing their institutions so as to admit foreigners to become naturalized they also acknowledge the right of decationalization. The war of 1812 originated through Great Britain seizing British subjects in the service of the United States and holding that her subjects could not free themselves from their obligations to the land of their birth. The war ended without settling the question. After a half century of discussion, however, the United States have succeeded in carrying their point. England has accepted the American position, and last year passed an act not merely and last year passed an act not merely to make foreigners into British subjects, but to allow British subjects to denation-alize themselves. The vast tide of emigrants flowing from Germany and Ire-land and Great Britain into the United States, and the acknowledged power of the latter to protect her citizens, have made it useless for Eugland or Germany to attempt to keep alive the exploded doctrine,—"once a subject always a subject. The last Government Gazette contains the Act of the Imperial Parliament sleded to. It is called "An Act to Amend the Law relating to the legal condition of Aliens and British subjects," and is published for general information by Gov. Musgrave. Heretofore an alien could not own land in the United Celebrated Manton and other Guns, Kingdom; but now he can. Formerly an alien could be tried by a jury de media-tate lingua, that is a jury composed of Elegant Rosewood Drawing-room Furliens and the other half British subjects. But that too is abolished by present Act. A British subject who has been naturalized in a foreign state may be re-admitted as a British subject at any time.before the 12th May, 1872, ed a declaration of British nationality be made, and the oath of allegiance be taken. After that time, however, a British subject who has been naturalized elsewhere must reside five years in the United Kingdom before he can be relmitted. A naturalized citizen shall also be entitled to all the privileges of a British-born subject. The Governor of any British colony may issue a certificate of naturalization; but where there is a naturalization Ordinance or Act in any of the British possessions, containing provisions contrary to the Imperial Statute, then the Governor's powers are subordinate to the local Act.

Heretofore we have provided the contract of the con tofore we have naturalized noder two or three different Acts. Hereafter it will be done under the lization law of the Dominion. At the same time, it appears that the new Imperial Act makes provision for the re-storation of British subjects to citizenship by an easier process than the Dominion Statute, But to take effect, re-admission must occur within a from the present. We regard the Imperial Naturalization Act as a test imprevement upon all pre-existent lets on the naturalization of aliens or the right of British subjects to expansion or denationalize themselves.

Audit Beturns.

During the last session of the Legislative Council, approximate returns of the Assets and Liabilities of the colony on December 81, 1870, and also of the Revenue and Expenditure for that year, were laid before that body. But in the last Gazette, Mr. Auditor General Ker, and Mr. Acting Treasurer Graham, under date of June 5, 1871, give the exact agares on those subjects, so far as they can be ascertained. The public debt was $1,565,587. The assets were $427,-943. The balance then was $1,137,594. The actual revenue for 1870 was $495,-352, which included $11,306 of cash in band. The expenditure was $524,695.

From this statement there was a defictency of about $25,000 last year. The revenue also fell below the Estimates for the year about $41,000. Confederation sequently come not a whit too

The New Westminster Assizes.

The Court opened on Thursday last befor Mr. Justice Crease. His honor addressed the jury at length, congratulating them on the state of the calendar, and the total absence of the calendar, and the total absence of crime. Among the causes for such a state of things, he said, was the respectable class from which the settlers were drawn, their natural respect for the laws, of renewed hope, of great prosperity, and to the fearless administration of justice by Chief Justice Beg bie during the time when he presided in the circuit. His honor continued, (we quote from the Guardian)—By the time when I shall again have the pleasure of meeting you we shall be under a new set of laws, those of the Deminion and Columbian code. The Cana-Deminion and Columbian code. The Canadian code is better adapted for colonial use. It is really, in some respects, more English than our Canadian code. This I know from experience, having resided three or four years is Canada, and in a subordinate capacity, been familiar with the consolidation of the Dominion statutes. The local laws will also be before you carefully revised for every day service. These laws will be found very useful in their complete and revised form. ful in their complete and revised form.

ATTORNEY GENERALS ALSTON AND PHILLIPPO. Of these two gentlemen the judge remarked in his address: "I cannot allude to this subject without expressing my own and the public gratitude to Mr. Alston, our acting Attorney General, and his predecessor in office, Mr. Phillippo, for their valuable assistance in perfecting this work. The first named gentleman is too well known to require any mention from me. His successful labors in the production of such a work as the Land Registry Act, the working of the school system, the Mechanics' Institute are all monuments of that gentleman's de-votion to everything useful and good during his stay in the colony. The latter gentle-man, Mr. Phillippo, endowed, as he was, with a fine intellect, sound learning and clear, ing intelligence, will always be remen bered with the greatest respect by all who had the pleasure to know him. Both gentlemen will be a loss to the colony, but we must cousele ourselves with the knowledge that our loss will be a gain to other communities. The great characteristic in the British service is devotion to country and duty, from which those two gentlemen will be no exception."

At the conclusion, the Grand Jury examined the gaol and found it very satisfactory; on their return, Capt. Irving, the foreman, congratulated His Honor on the absence of crime, and on the general good order and health of the district. The only present ment they, the Grand Jury, had to make, was honor to hand his Lordship.

FUNERAL SERMON. - At the Wesleyan Church, last evening, the Rev. Mr. Russ reached an eloquent sermon, on the occasion of the death of Jas. S. sive additional information of his own.

His last pamphlet, issued in 1868, in which the practicability of such a line of railway and the great importance of it to the mether-country, as well as to the dominion, is most ably shown and his highly finished map of British Columbia, published in a reduced form by the Royal Geographical Society, were certainly well timed and of great utility.

For them and for his untiring exertions, both here and in England, in favor of a project so highly important to the future welfare of the dominion, the people of Canada are under no small obligation to Mr. Waddington.

It can well be imagined that in the acquisition of so much new business, in the dealings wit so many accumulated transactions and in the settlement of such a large amount of claims, questions of Important requiring the exercise of care, judgement, discretion and literality, have presented themselves and probably the best gauge of the success which has attended the management in these respects is that so little had been heard the Gompany as is pursued its way. The Directors may at any other time refer to the advanced position which the Company has always taken up in liberalising the conditions of the Assurance Contract which has greatly facilitate all these proceedings, but at present they will confine themselves to the simple duty of reporting progress.

The Directors have only turther on this occasion to refer to the Investigation with reference to the Eighth Divi ion of Profits now in progress. They are happy to state that the laborious calculations necessary to ascertain the Company's position have very nearly been completed, but the results have not been placed before them by the Actuary, so that they can make no statement on the subject, but they are glad to have it in their power to state that few weeks hence the whole will be reported in the most complete manner. These remarks apply to the actuarial results which show the liabilities of the Company. The investigation of the other side of the account, namely: the Assits, has already been completed and a most satisfactory Report made by a Committee of Directors who have ramined each security and rach document constituting it.

The Chairman then addressed the meeting in congratulatory terms on the position of the Company.

The Report was unanimously approved of; and after the election of new Directors and a vote of thanks to the contract of the company.

GUNPOWDER.

"The powder first tried by the Committee in the mer-Henry cartridge, and of which they entirely apove, is known as 'Curtis and Harvey, No. 6.' Several other descriptions manufactured at the Governme Factory, Waltham Abbey, have also been tried, but he tot afforded the same uniform accuracy of shooting.

There appear to be difficulties, confined, it is believed to the question of expense, in producing a powder at Waltham Abbey, in all respects equal to 'Curtis and Harvey, No. 6; 'but the Committee, keeping in view the importance of maintaining the great accuracy of shooting of the Martini-Henry rifle, recommend that no powder should be used for its ammunition that does no give results at least equal to those obtained in the Com ittee's experiments, whether such powder be obtained in the Government Factory or from the trade."*

Mesers. Curtis and Harvey's powder was employed by Mr. Henry during the competition for accuracy of shooting and as the results then attained were satisfac-tory, the Committee have, without making trial of the powder of other manufacturers, continued its use as a standard.

CURTIS'S & HARVEY take this opportunit ttee on the most suitable Rifles for the Service and as THEIR GUNPOWDER is so highly comme they think it desirable to communicate the informati to their Customers and Friends. The recommendati equally applies to all other marks and descriptions. 74, LOMBARD STREET, LONDON, E. C. March, 1871.

A Card. PR. MILLS BOWDEN.—THROUGH THE Medium of the STANDARD I want to state the very great good that has been done me by you. One year against a was unfortunate enough to lose my pelate. I tried many persons without beneficial effect until I went to you, when I was supplied with an artificial palate which has given entire satisfaction. I recommend any person similarly affilicted, or requiring anything in the banks line, to call upon you. Respectfully, my61m daw
